I think art and music should be compulsory for all students under 18.

I have three reasons for holding this opinion.

First, art and music are popular ⁽²⁾ subjects among young people from those in kindergartens to those in high schools. ~~They~~ If they couldn't take any art or music classes at school, they would have only a few chances to know anything about art or music, except for students participating in these club activities.

Second, ⁽⁵⁾ art and music can give them a relaxing time. ~~Nowadays~~ Nowadays, students have a high motivation to attend famous schools, and they ⁽⁶⁾ have to study subjects like math and English to proceed to them. ~~Art and music can refresh the examinees during this stressful period, though.~~ ⁽⁷⁾

Finally, art and music ⁽⁸⁾ include ⁽⁹⁾ values to learn, different from those of subjects for entrance exams. ~~In other words,~~ ⁽¹¹⁾ they can develop students' general education. The process of learning art and music can lead students to not specific but general views, which can be ⁽¹⁰⁾ acquired from ~~other activities, such as watching movies and reading works, and communications among people.~~ ~~These activities constitute what is widely known as 'liberal arts' at the university level.~~

1) For these reasons, I think educational institutions and teachers should make young people take art and music classes.

2) Accordingly, I believe that tuition in art and music is beneficial for students in classes ranging in level from elementary school through high school.
